PRESENTED BY

SENIOR CLASS

OF THE

CHICAGO CHRISTIAN
HIGH SCHOOL

Dear Mary:
Don't forget all the happy times we had in English & Chapel.
Loberg

JUNE, 1938

CHICAGO, ILLINOIS

CHAPEL

Our chapel service is one thing which distinguishes our school from others. Chapel is one period of the day when all students unite in devotional exercises consisting of Scripture reading, prayer, and hymn singing. Brief thoughts expressed in chapel remain with us through the day, guiding us in our words and actions. Some of these thoughts leave permanent impressions which we cannot but be thankful for in future years.

Frequently, guest speakers and talented students enrich our chapel services. Such incidents are greatly welcomed and appreciated by all.

OUR LIBRARY

The library is deeply appreciated by those students who use it extensively. Books of all types are found on our shelves, and they are in use much of the time. Considering the school's enrollment, our library amply accommodates our students. On our magazine racks are found magazines which furnish valuable information as well as offer interesting reading. The number of students using the library every period of the day proves that it fills a great need in the students' school life.

FOREWORD

Although an annual can never be a complete record of a year's events and accomplishments, we have endeavored to produce a book—

Which will give our friends a clear insight into our school, unique as it is, showing them that a school can provide spiritual guidance and inspiration as well as mold young people mentally and physically;

Which the students will regard as a moving history of the entire year's events, containing, perhaps, disappointments and failures, as well as successes and realizations;

Which will prove in years to come a source of joy and pleasant reminiscence of the hours spent here.

DEDICATION

TO MR. ARTHUR LANNING:

Who has taught the Commercial Sciences here
for eleven years,

Who has advised and guided us in the publication of the Violet and Maize,

Who has always manifested loyalty, straightforwardness, and sincerity,

We, the Senior Class, dedicate the 1938 Violet and Maize.

IN APPRECIATION

TO MRS. GERTRUDE LIGTENBERG:

Who has made possible the presentation of
"Another Spring" by the student body,
Who has directed us in the Senior Class play,
"Lena Rivers",
Who has been a vital example of efficiency and creative ability,
We, the Senior Class, extend our sincere appreciation.

FREDERICK DOORNBOS

FEB. 9, 1921—JULY 5, 1937

As we approach graduation, it is with a feeling of sadness and regret that one of our classmates is no longer with us. And yet, with the assurance that he has graduated to higher joys than any this earth could offer, our grief is somewhat assuaged.

Fred was born February 9, 1921. He attended Englewood Christian School for eight years and entered our school in February, 1935. He was planning to complete his course in three and a half years in order to graduate with us this June. With this in view, he enrolled in summer school last summer, but only attended a few days, when God took him unto Himself. It was on July 5, at Cedar Lake, Indiana, that Fred met a tragic death by drowning.

It is needless to say we miss Fred—his modest ways, his happy manners, his friendly presence, but we are comforted by the thought of one day being reunited with him.

OUR FACULTY

We students realize what a splendid faculty we have and what a standard of scholarship, enterprise, and character they have set for us. In the four years of our high school career our faculty has been a signal and spur to greater industry and accomplishment. During that time there were only slight changes in our teaching staff; and we, as students, have come to know our teachers not only as teachers, but also as personal friends. There have been close contacts between students and teachers. They know us as we know them. They have tried to make us worthy of our responsibilities—of our heritage of Christian faith. They have sought to bring out our best characteristics, to supplement those we lack in order to qualify us for the difficulties and joys of life.

Above all, they have interpreted and helped us to interpret our studies in the light of God's Word. They have sought to make us see the worthlessness of life without faith; and as graduates and under classmen, we are extremely thankful for and grateful to our teachers.

To Mary—
 Congratulations on your graduating—but I'm sorry you will not be here in September. Best wishes

TO OUR GRADUATES OF 1938

Although you live in a day of many social, economic and religious hazards, nevertheless we are not solicitous about your present or future well-being. We hold this faith concerning you because we know how effectually you have been equipped and fortified by the training of your home and church and this Christian high school. This training has given you a reserve of moral, spiritual and intellectual strength. It has provided you with means whereby you can, both critically and appreciatively, gain further intellectual insight and understanding. It has provided you with the security of strong convictions concerning the things that endure. You are going into the world of tomorrow, which will be your world, qualified to be torch-bearers for the full gospel of Jesus Christ, our Lord. The world always has need of youth such as you—gifted in mind, idealistic in spirit, wholesome in personality. May God's blessings always attend your way by day and by night.

Dear Mary:

RETROSPECTION

A door which opened for us four years ago to allow us to enter that room of our lives known as the high school period is far behind and we are approaching another, which, the key turned, is ready to swing open for us.

Four years ago the other door looked terrifying; it seemed to beckon us on to things far too difficult for our childish comprehension—yes, we were still children. And yet, as we became better acquainted with high school life, it lost its terrifying aspects and became to us our second home. It became a place to which we came with pleasant anticipation each morning, and which we left each day with a feeling of regret, yet always able to look forward to the next day's returning. Our four never-to-be-forgotten years here are almost over, and since they are, we stop to contemplate, what have these four years meant to us?

They have been the "growing-up" years. We have emerged from childhood and stand on the threshold of adult life. They have been impressionable years; even seemingly unimportant details have left their stamp on us.

Not only in our classrooms have we received inspiration. Friendships which have been formed and cemented through club life and other social activities have brought us close together—have shown us that true friends stick through thick and thin.

How thankful we are that we had the privilege of spending these years in a school where the teaching and atmosphere constantly reflected the Spirit of Christ. We are grateful to our teachers, parents, and above all, God. May our lives ever reflect the teaching that we have here received.

MENTAL MEANDERINGS

OF A FRESHMAN

Time surely does go fast—
We've turned into an amiable bunch;
A year of high school has already passed—
I guess, what I liked best was lunch.

OF A SOPHOMORE

I think we have a right to feel superior,
This year's freshies certainly were bad!
They ought to feel inferior—
Our little pranks made them so mad.

OF A JUNIOR

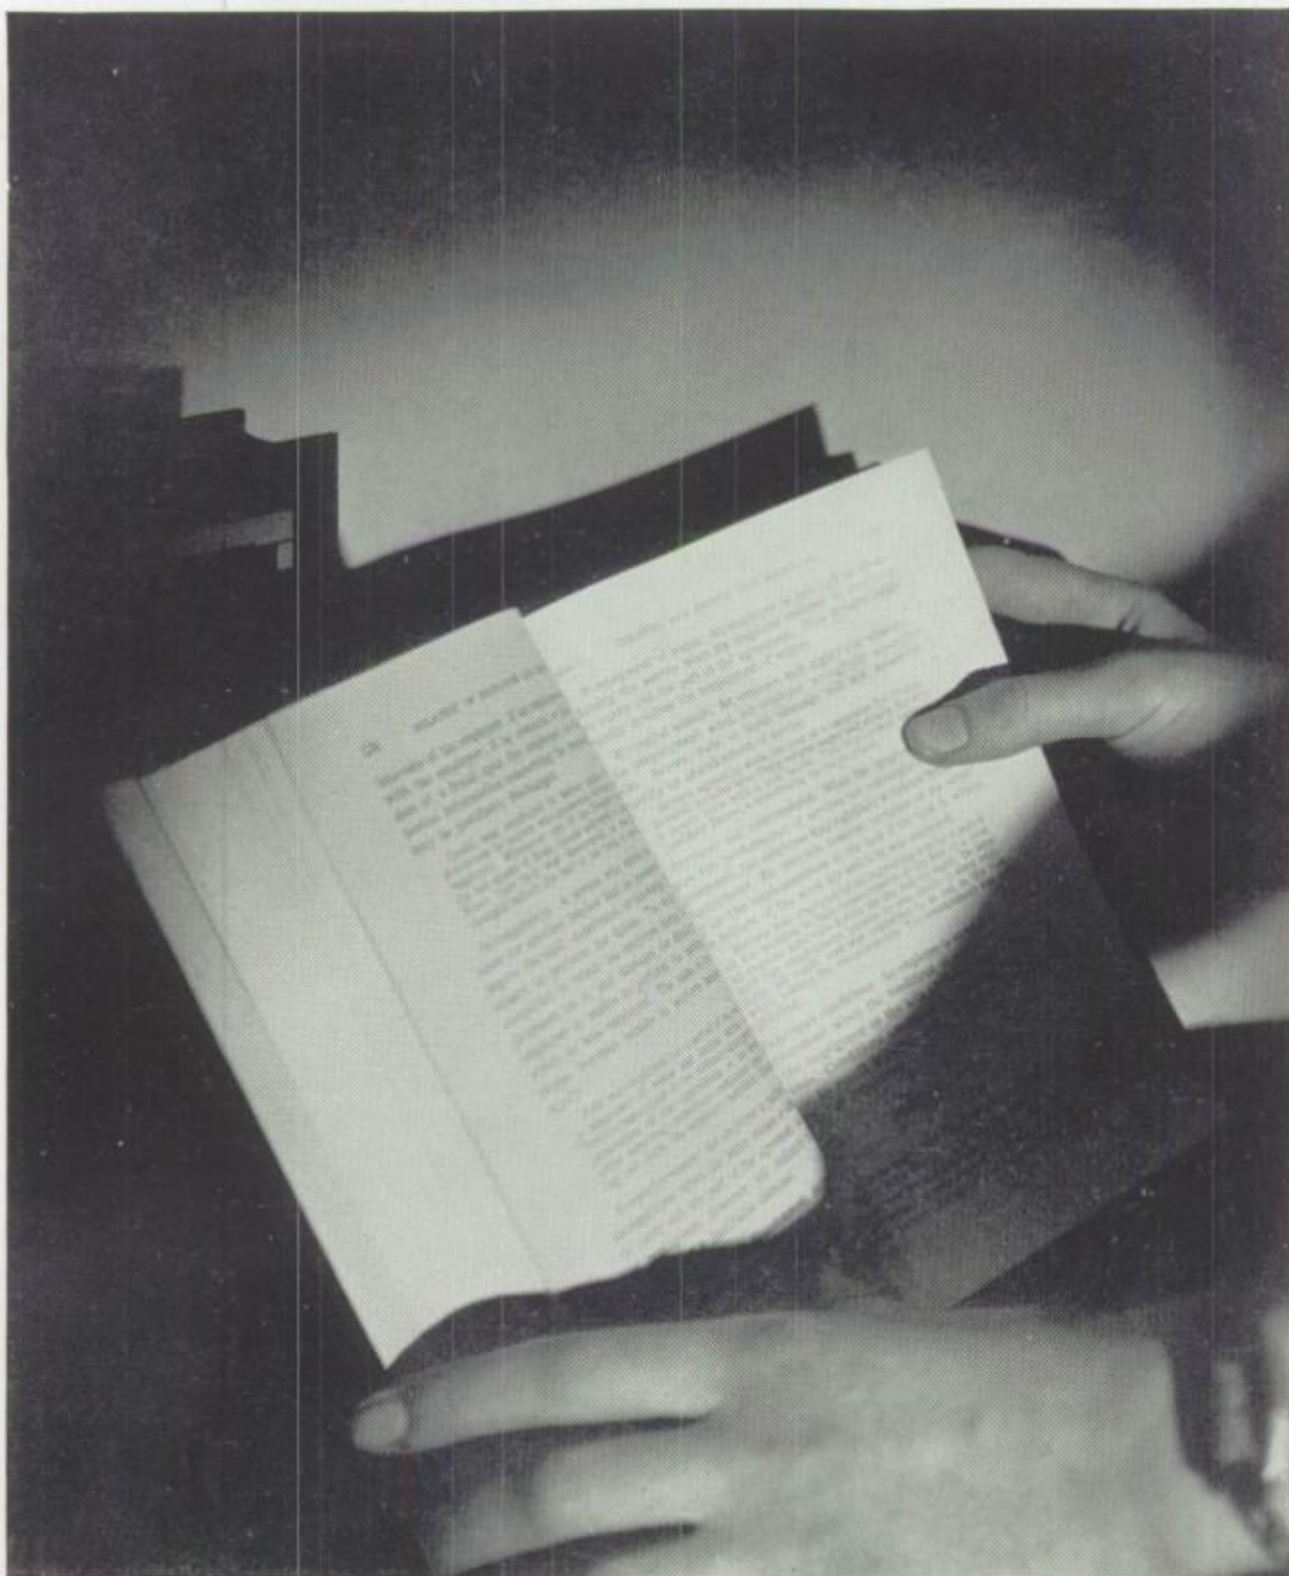

Ho hum, seniors next year,
Just watch our steam!
My little girl friend? Oh, dear!
If she'd only look at me, I'd beam.

OF A SENIOR

Well, we won't be seniors any more,
Wonder if they'll miss us very much.
Guess, if they don't, we'll be pretty sore;
We weren't so bad, as such.

OF THE FACULTY

Another year of labor now is o'er,
It cannot all have been in vain.
Just a little added to their intellectual store
Gives courage to carry on with might and main.

As Juniors—prospective Seniors, we've come to the realization that we will be envied and despised by all under class men because of our duties to uphold the customs of senior classes.

Having already spent three happy years in our school, during which time we have gradually acquired an appreciation of the imperative nature of senior projects, we look with apprehension to the time when they will be our responsibility. In spite of the worries which will attend our accession to the senior realm, we shall enjoy the privileges and honors which it brings. Following senior traditions we shall ignore those below our elevated position, but we shall experience deep disappointment and insult if our absence does not create a slight furor.

Despite all we have said and thought of our present seniors, we shall miss them more than we can find words to express, and we wish them all the success that can be obtained in future undertakings.

HALL GUARDS

Students passing through our corridors are accosted by guards asking for permits. Every one in the corridors during classes must have a permit signed by the teacher whose class the student should be in, or he must have a very good reason for being without one.

Our hall guards are a necessary division of our school's organizations. Their watchfulness and dependability have done much to decrease tardiness and to make our halls attractive. They also act as guides and give information to visitors or others who have reason to be in our corridors.

Students chosen to be hall guards are signally honored and should regard their duties as being important and worthy of their time and effort. Possibly the guards themselves do not realize the fact, but they are one factor in making our school pleasant and efficient. Their work may seem insignificant, but there would be disastrous results if our hall guard system were to be discontinued.

Dear Mary

Here's lots of luck to a swell kid and I enjoyed knowing you. Hope to see you again.

Love M. M. M.

MIRROR STAFF

For another year the Mirror has kept up its record of coming out on time and faithfully reporting the news. Our paper is published bi-monthly. No advertising is accepted for the paper: all expenses are paid from the small sum charged for the paper. We are proud of the fact that we did not go in the "red" once during the entire year.

Students were encouraged to contribute their ideas and controversies to the readers' page. Several questions turned to heated debates, especially those about war. The general opinion about this was that war is usually foolish and unnecessary. We also found out that there are several vehement pacifists in the school.

The staff has charge of the paper from one February to the next. In February the Mirror was turned over to the junior class so that the Seniors could devote all their efforts to the annual.

THE VIOLET AND MAIZE STAFF

The Violet and Maize Staff has, with the distribution of this book, completed a task which though long and arduous, has proved a joy to us.

Upon taking up its duties, the staff felt, as perhaps every annual staff does, that it was wholly inadequate to cope with the task which lay ahead. Although many members of the Staff were editors of the Mirror, this project, so infinitely greater, was begun with grave misgivings. As the work progressed however, and we could see the plan of the book unfold, we were cheered and encouraged. The work went on; sometimes so slowly we feared things were at a standstill, but with the splendid spirit and cooperation of the staff, together with the unfailing inspiration of Mr. Lanning, we have completed our work. The one thing that could add to our joy and satisfaction would be the knowledge that you, the reader of our Violet and Maize, may experience a greater appreciation of Chicago Christian High and the ideals for which it stands.

It is becoming traditional for Euphemia to take the lead in promoting social activities among juniors and seniors. Every freshman and sophomore girl looks forward to the time when she will be a Euphemia member. That is why Initiation Days are such great fun. No one refuses to comply with the entrance demands.

The club was first organized in 1929. Our present sponsor, Miss Schuringa, was a Euphemia member herself not so long ago.

An annual event of great importance is the Junior-Senior Banquet which this club plans and arranges. This year we dined in a tropical atmosphere under Southern moons and swinging monkeys.

Another yearly project is the Alumnae Banquet. It serves to keep alumnae interested in the school and the club. The guests wore costumes of various nationalities this year, in keeping with the theme of a carnival of nations. China men, Japanese beauties, and Gypsies mingled with Dutch and Mexican maidens.

To prove that the girls do not lack in housewifely virtues, they made a beautiful quilt which was displayed at Open House.

Acacia is a club composed of fifteen junior and senior girls. Its purpose is to stimulate social life in our school. It lives up to its purpose by sponsoring its famous Roller Skating Parties, Bow Days, Flower Days, etc.

It was organized in 1935 and since that time has made life at C. C. H. S. more attractive. The money it has gained through its roller skating parties and other special activities has been given to the hymnal fund.

We feel rather proud of these girls because, beside the above-mentioned activities for the whole school and their exclusive Treasure Hunt this spring, they gained first place in the Girls Basketball Tournament.

The Acacia Club is grateful to its efficient sponsor, Mrs. Haeck, for the co-operative spirit she has shown at all times.

The past year has proved very enjoyable and successful for the Juvenes Club in that they have accomplished several important things.

By sponsoring such activities as the Variety Program, which consisted of numbers by the A'Capella Choir, string ensemble, and the showing of moving pictures of our students at work, and the Faculty Play, the club was able to give a pleasing sum of money to the school for the new chapel hymnals.

As the grand finale to the year's work and play, the boys treated their dads, the men teachers, and incidentally themselves, to a Father and Sons Banquet.

VIRGINES CLUB

Twenty-six sophomore and junior girls—and every one of them interested in sports—That's Virgines!!

Their activities have been mainly in the athletic field. Dressed in Violet and Maize capes, the girls did letter formations between the halves of the Alumni Basketball Game. With the help of Miss Teninga and Mrs. Haeck, it sponsored a basketball tournament in January. (Don't you remember the thrilling final game between Acacia and Virgines?) They also sponsored the volleyball and baseball tournaments, and originated the system whereby the girls obtain school letters. The climax to their activities was a Mother and Daughter's Social.

SENEX CLUB

This is a newly organized club composed of junior boys. Their purpose is to make improvements in and about school both socially and materially and although there have been no distinct achievements because of the newness of the club yet the boys are endeavoring to accomplish something in accordance to its ideals.

The club lists among its activities participation in a chapel service, various baseball games with other clubs and a basketball game against notorious players in which the club was victor.

Luck to a

ZIPPERING ZEPHYRS

The Zippering Zephyr girls, ten in number, are all from the junior class. Their aim is to put "zip" into school life, so they started off the season with a treasure hunt and participated in the intramural sports with the other girls' clubs. They went hiking and bike-riding together, besides working for a school letter, a great big C that can be sewed onto a sweater or jacket. So you see that although their club is young, they're "zippering" right along. They are certain to do a great deal toward making a lively senior class.

MECHANICS

This club was organized about a year ago to promote interest and activity in the field of mechanics among its members. Membership is restricted to boys alone and is open to them at the beginning of each semester. At each meeting the boys enjoy a demonstration by a fellow member, work on some mechanical project together, or carry on an interesting club discussion. They have made several educational trips such as the one to the Ford Motor Company plant.

LYDIAN CLUB

The Lydians Club is made up of peppy sophomore girls whose aim is to serve the school. This they have done in several ways: they had Mr. Heineman show some beautiful motion pictures of Europe twice in our regular chapel service; they made yarddolls of school colors to sell; and they have even tried their hand at stippling. Besides they now have a scrapbook full of interesting articles for girls.

MAZELLES

The Mazelles Club, composed of a group of freshman and sophomore girls under the able sponsorship of Miss Margaret Buikema, has already put its stamp on the activity calendar of C. C. H. S. In November it held a fudge sale; in January, a Roller Skating party and in April, Cotton Day. They have also done things to help others outside of school. They made scrapbooks which they presented to an orphanage as a Christmas gift.

TORCHBEARERS CLUB

The purpose of this club is adequately expressed in its motto: "Let your light so shine before men that they may see your good works and glorify your Father which is in Heaven." They put into practice as an organization the teachings we receive at C. C. H. S. Some of last year's graduates also belong to this club and help with the programs given at the missions. May it ever continue to exist and may its members ever remain in active Christian work.

FORENSIC

The Forensic Club was organized with the idea in mind that a knowledge of effective public speaking is never amiss. At each meeting speeches on events of current interest were given and constructive criticisms were then offered by the other members.

Forensic has not had a permanent president but each member has had an opportunity to preside as chairman for a meeting and thereby gain experience.

This club foretells of effective oratory for our school in coming years.

CAMERA CLUB

The Camera Club was started this year to stimulate interest in the art of photography. Pictures are taken and developed by the members, and they derive much pleasure in comparing notes on length of exposures, shadows, and many other often unnoticed but important details. Great plans are in the making for the coming year.

STAMP CLUB

"How much am I offered for this perfectly centered stamp from Greece?" These words would probably be heard at a meeting of the Stamp Club. This club is open to all who are interested in the hobby of stamp collecting. The first semester the club held auctions, at which time the different members were given opportunity to sell stamps; and at the beginning of this semester it sponsored a mounting contest, first place being taken by Neal Medema. It subscribed to a stamp magazine and purchased a stamp catalogue, besides sponsoring a ping pong tournament. This club thus helps its members to develop and perfect a very interesting and educational hobby.

COMITES

The Comites Club was begun last November and consists of a group of sophomore boys. The object is social fellowship. These "companions" have had a toboggan party together, have gone swimming at the Y. M. C. A., and have participated in several basketball games. In addition to this the boys are planning some activity for the entire school's benefit and promise, "You'll hear from us soon." Probably their long and deliberate club meetings are centered about this. Who knows?

STELLAE CLUB

The recently organized Stellae Club is a product of freshman energy, this time freshmen girls. Even though it has been in existence such a short time and has not had the opportunities to do things like the other clubs have, it is by no means idle. The girls have formed this club to encourage friendship and to promote school spirit, but uppermost in their minds is our school itself. Here's their motto: Less for self, more for others, all for C. C. H. S.

LE CIRCLE FRANCAIS

The French Club

Aim: To stimulate interest in French culture.

At club meetings we discuss French customs, menus, preferences, interesting phases from their history. We attempt French conversation, sing French songs, and play French games.

Members of the club are all members of the French class. This club meets each Friday, 4th period. It was organized recently but already shows fruits of success. We plan to correspond with French students in France.

BIOLOGY CLUB

Aim: To promote common interest in Biology.

The Biology Club is made up chiefly of sophomore boys, engaging in, and promoting Biology. The meetings are conducted each club period, exercising Parliamentary order.

In the past this club has done much to improve the laboratory: fixed the laboratory lamps, and many other projects. An excellent display was given at "Open House".

In the future we hope not only to do as well as in the past, but better ourselves and become a real asset to the Chicago Christian High School.

Our Athletic Association has charge of all athletic affairs. It sees to it that the gym is well prepared with basketballs, volleyballs, nets, and other gym necessities. Its officers are elected annually by the student body. At the end of the basketball season the Athletic Association awards school letters to the team members.

This year our team went to play the Christian High teams of Grand Rapids and Holland. Another famous affair sponsored by the Athletic Association is the annual Field Day. Everyone is invited to Ogden Park for outdoor contests and the Faculty-freshmen baseball game. Of course, the teachers win every year but all are happy when we return to school for—Hot Dogs and Coffee!!!

Besides sponsoring school affairs the Athletic Association sponsored the annual magazine campaign with the help of the Curtis Publishing Company. This campaign netted us approximately $100. The new books in the library, bought with this money, are really a fine addition.

Long hours in the fading dusk of approaching winter were spent in the rigorous and exacting practice in order to temper and sharpen their physical and mental faculties in preparation for strenuous competition in the Chicago Private School League. The watchful eye and tactful application of the game's authentic rules by our energetic and experienced coach, Mr. Maurice Vander Velde, gave our team members the greatest opportunity to have the annealing of mental and physical cooperation which is the essence of athletic attainment. This co-operation gave recompense in the final league standing, which was fifth place.

In regard to the accomplishments of our team, it may be said that although they have missed their goal of glory, they have created a spirit of friendly competition, a more wholesome and energetic school spirit, a program which built up mind and body. Their efforts have lived as a tribute in the minds of those who have watched, enjoyed, and benefited from contact with our team.

LIGHTWEIGHT BASKETBALL

The seeds have been planted and carefully cultivated in the hope of blossoming forth with a winning team in 1939. They have sincerely and whole-heartedly devoted themselves to learning the rules of the game and appreciating the sportsmanship involved. They have engaged in competition to secure a practical assertion of the knowledge that they have acclaimed and to promote confidence and free style in their playing.

They have been highly successful in their attempts and have brought considerable fame to our school by defeating formidable teams of greater experience and greater physical stature. Coach Vander Velde has industriously imparted his strength and basketball knowledge to them and the future looks bright. They have the possibilities and are willing and ready to give what it takes to put our school on the top in 1939.

ORCHESTRA

With the recollection of a previous orchestra and the recognition of such an organization's value, it was suggested by Dr. Wezeman that another orchestra be formed. This was done with the assistance of Mr. Henry Baar at the beginning of the February semester. Since no provision had been made for it in the year's schedule of classes, rehearsals had to be arranged on a changing period basis so that members would not be absent too frequently from any one class. Sectional rehearsals had to be arranged also in order to instruct the members in proper methods of playing. For this instruction and for the beginning instructions at the fall rehearsals, the orchestra and school is grateful to Mr. E. Loar who has done this work most efficiently.

The orchestra's first public appearance was at one of our Chapel services, Friday, April 22, under Mr. Loar's direction. Comments on this performance were very favorable, and it was felt that the orchestra will become a valuable addition to C. C. H. S.'s musical activities. It is hoped that the orchestra will continue to develop not only in ability, but in personnel also; and that it will become a very efficient representative of student activities.

THE C. C. H. S. BAND

The band has made notable progress this year both in point of membership and playing ability. In addition, two instruments were purchased; namely, a sousaphone and an oboe.

Mr. Loar, who is a student at the Sherwood Music School, deserves much of the credit for the success of this group. He began his work with us in February of this year. With his coming, instrumental classes—both beginning and advanced—were also inaugurated. These are for woodwinds, brasses, and strings. We hope the classes will continue from year to year, for they materially aid the band. Students do not need previous training to enter them.

Recent public appearances in Chapel by our band called forth favorable comments from various sources. We are pleased to note that a marked improvement has taken place and trust that this will spur the members on to even better effort.

With continued instruction we are sure this group, together with the orchestra, will make rapid strides and soon become strong, well-rounded organizations in our music department, and a definite asset to our school.

I wish you love, luck else that's good. I'll

The present choir has proven itself to be one of the best that has ever been under the leadership of Mr. Baar. Through his untiring efforts the choir has been built up to its present status. Although they got off to a rather slow start, it was impossible to stop them when they really worked.

The annual spring concert, which is the high spot of the year was given on May 4. We are sure all who were there fully enjoyed it. The concert was very successful.

The activities and success of the choir this year should be an incentive to future choirs to do better singing and interpreting of music.

Early last fall the Downtown Shopping News extended an invitation to the C. C. H. S. to participate in its weekly radio program "High School Parade." The time assigned to us was the morning of January 1, 1938.

The program consisted of several numbers by our choir and a one act play entitled "Joseph and His Brethren." The success of the enterprize was due largely to the aid of Harry Eldersveld, an alumnus of our school, who is at present engaged in radio broadcasting. Many compliments concerning our program were received, among them a highly complimentary letter from the Radio Corporation of America.

"And there shall be—Another Spring."

These words, engraved on two parts of a ring, in the possession of two different persons, complete the circle around which the play is built.

In the prologue, David Lee, wounded while fighting in the Revolutionary War, makes a final struggle to see Nancy Carlisle, his beloved. Each possesses half of a gold ring, which passes on to their descendents. In the play proper Nancy Allen is betrothed to Nelson Browning, who insists that they be married soon. The ceremony takes place at Carlisle Manor, Nancy's ancestral home. The wedding ring is dropped and part of it is picked up by the best man, David Carlisle Madison. His pocket yields another part of a ring and the two young people realize that as the ring forms a perfect circle, so does their love.

This three act play was another successful enterprise this year, due largely to the efforts of our able director and our production staff. The play was sponsored by the choir and was presented before four enthusiastic audiences. The proceeds were used for the music department.

The play takes its cue from its dashing, vivacious, young heroine, Lena Rivers. Lena and Granny Nichols are compelled to leave the North and make their home with Mr. and Mrs. Livingstone, their prosperous relatives who live in Kentucky. Mrs. Livingstone and Caroline are constantly scheming to be rid of their pauper relatives; however, Lena wins the affections of John Jr. and Anna who defend her in all her escapades.

Durward Bellmont is attracted by Lena when he should be visiting Caroline, and complications set in. Lena is under suspicion of being too friendly with Mr. Graham. He however, claims Lena as his daughter by a former marriage. Lena is redeemed in Durward's eyes, and everything ends happily.

CONQUEROR LAUNCHED CROWDS TURN OUT

On the evening of June 17, 1938, the steamship, Conqueror, was launched amid the rousing cheers and congratulations of admiring parents and friends. Hours of preparation and anticipation melted into nothing when the moment finally arrived, and when the momentous occasion was completed, there was great joy and happiness. Despite all the encouragement shown, there was a sense of inadequacy and fear as to the future.

For four long years the ship had been under construction at the Chicago Christian High School docks. Its designers and builders were the faculty. Through many experiments and apparent failures they have sought to produce a vessel worthy of the difficulties it shall undoubtedly encounter. Their indomitable courage and initiative prompted them to persevere in spite of obstacles. The sea of life is extremely rough at times, and sinking seems inevitable. We trust the Conqueror will not meet this sad fate.

The Conqueror leaves the shelter of the port and embarks on an uncharted sea. There is nothing novel about this, since scores of other ships have embarked on such voyages; but it is impossible to shake off the feelings of curiosity and uncertainty that insist on loitering in the vicinity. How will the ship fare after it is well on its voyage? How long will it see profitable service? While Time will answer these questions to a certain degree, Eternity alone can reveal the final issues.

Scores of congratulatory messages were received at the ship's launching, to which we add our deepest and most sincere.

LOOKIN' BACK

SEPTEMBER 7—Registration. Large number of students turn out, 381 to be exact. 70 of these enroll as freshmen.

16—Due to epidemic of Infantile Paralysis, school was closed until today. From the looks of the empty corridors, many students didn't know school was opening.

17—Regular school work resumed—Chapel held. Freshies having a terrible time finding the right rooms at the right time.

20—The new streamlined Lansing bus made its appearance. Some class! Memorial service held in chapel for Fred Doornbos, our fellow classmate, who met with a tragic death during the summer.

22—Senior Class gets together and makes Lennie Wezeman its president.

23—World Series going on. No wonder the teachers are sneaking out of the room every other minute.

30—Euphemians wearing corsages of onions and carrots as part of their initiation. We managed to survive the day. Initiation party held in the evening.

OCTOBER 5—The Seniors put out the first edition of the Mirror. Duke claims it was a sellout.

8—The Athletic Association sponsors Field Day at Ogden Park. Those games must have worked up their appetites the way those kids went for the "hot dogs".

11—Johanna Kooy, Betty Ottenhoff, and Henrietta Bos return from their trip to the East and tell us about it in Chapel.

12—Tryouts for the Choir play.
—Acacia sponsors a successful roller skating party.

13—Everyone feeling rather stiff.

14—Curtis campaign begins. Students urged to get subscriptions.

15—Chester Zeilstra chosen to preside over the Junior Class.

20—Acacia girls going to town with their new sweaters.

21—First club period held. Many new clubs organize. Report cards out. The Freshies think F means Fine.

25—Curtis campaign ends with approximately $100 profit. Louis Clousing, Elizabeth Gustafson, and Wilma Dykstra, first, second, and third winners respectively.

26—Whipped cream fight in the basement—maybe the Seniors know something about it.

27—Ladies' Auxiliary hold their annual bazaar.

28—No school. Teachers attending conference at Grand Rapids. We don't object.

20—Ditto.

NOVEMBER 8—Senior girls get in trim to play the Alumnae on Homecoming Night.

16—"Another Spring" given. Large audience is captivated by this interesting drama. Baar and Kloese play leading roles.

17—Ditto. Crowd so large, many have to return home. Decide to give it the following night also.

18—Play given.

19—An overwhelming house present at the final performance of "Another Spring".

26—Homecoming Night. Alumni boys triumph over High School Varsity (19-15)—Senior girls bow to Alumnae by a score of 15-6. (Continued on page 65)

The Class of 1938, having sojourned at the Chicago Christian High School for four brief years, has passed on to bigger things, and we herewith publish their—

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the departing class of the Chicago Christian High School, of the city of Chicago, County of Cook, State of Illinois, in the year of our Lord one thousand nineteen hundred and thirty-eight, being sound of mind and memory, do hereby publish, write, and testify this to be our last will and testament.

ARTICLE I

To the Freshmen we bequeath our great sense of humor (worn a bit thin in places).

To the Sophomores we leave two years in which to acquire a sedate and dignified manner such as ours.

To the Juniors we leave all the privileges and rights of Seniordom, trusting that they will put them to as good use as have their predecessors.

ARTICLE II

To Mr. H. Baar: We leave a limber stooge to recover the ball every time it goes up in the gallery.

To Mr. J. Baar: We bequeath a sound-proof room in which he can work with his cherubs (the choir), undisturbed by various other peculiar noises.

To Mr. De Vries: We devise an automatic device with which to remove the excess dirt on his limousine without using any energy.

To Miss Eaton: We leave an inspiration for her masterpiece, yet to come.

To Mr. Evenhouse: We bequeath a perfect senior Bible Class, never absent or tardy.

To Mrs. Haeck: We devise muzzles to snap on the mouths of each and every student entering the library.

To Mr. Hofstra: We give a fossil of a Fiji mermaid.

To Mrs. Laesseman: We bequeath a modern "electric kitchen" in which she can perfect her tempting dishes.

To Mr. Lanning: We devise a leash for his "cash" box, to prevent its disappearance.

To Mr. Loar: We give him three cheers for his outstanding work rebuilding the band and orchestra.

To Mr. Mouw: We suggest a partition in the bus between the driver and the rowdy passengers.

To Miss Schuringa: We bequeath a step ladder, from the top of which she can detect who is disturbing her peace and order.

To Mr. Swets: We leave a pocket-sized radio, which he can carry around during the World Series.

To Miss Teninga: We give her full responsibility of Pat, now that Teddie is leaving.

To Mr. Van Beek: We suggest a volume containing the interpretations of all great poetical works, so that he need not question his engrossed class.

To Mr. Vander Velde: We bequeath a reliable way of transportation so that he need not "thumb" a ride on the bus.

To Dr. Wezeman: We give him a three month's vacation in which he can recuperate from the deathly silence caused by our departure.

To Mr. H. Wezeman: We give him our best wishes for success in his new venture.

ARTICLE III

I, Al Hoffs, leave my faithful old hat, still in good condition, to Chris Terborg.

I, Neal Vander Laan, leave my business ability to Alfred Hanko.

We, Cele and Jen, leave our inseparableness to Marie and Eleanore.

I, Elmer Seybold, leave my steady hand to Richy Boersma.

I, George Zwart, leave my "Views on many topics" to Ches Zeilstra.

I, Louise Clousing, leave my tardies and absences to whoever can get them excused.

We, the tenors, leave our superiority over the basses to next year's tenors.

I, John Groot, leave my highly polished radiator adornment to be used on the Lansing bus.

I, Marie Voss, leave my gymnastic ability to Jennie De Jong.

I, Dan Vander Woude, leave my baby blue eyes to Bob Baar.

I, Grace Huitsing, leave my art of effective pinching to Betty Hoving.

I, Gerda Bos, leave my superior grades to Irene Bosch.

We, Rog and Red, leave our basketball fouls to Rich Winter and Rudy Kooi.

I, Jake Hasper, leave the hall vacant for the sake of Ray and Evelyn.

I, Lenny Wezeman, leave my ideas on elevator construction to Helen Duner.

I, Bertha Wichers, leave my stenographic ability to Evelyn Zeilstra. (Continued on 65)

We got to get together more often. I'll never forget you - don't

Dear Mary:

Boy, it sure has been a pleasure knowing you, the later part of this year! You know, I didn't really care for you last year, not that I hated you or anything. But I know now that you have to know you real well in order to like (love) you. See, these last few months of school have been swell with you around. You rate "Ace high with me" (and I'm afraid with someone else, too).

About graduation night, well I think everything will turn out alright. I hope so anyhow. We must go out together, rain or shine.

Well, Love, I'll close this volume (supposed to be volume) for now, but I'll tell you much more later.

Lots of Luck, Mary,
Ethel Schurman

P.S. I hope we go to sleep tomorrow night (?).
